POLICE FIND ALCOHOL WHILE
INVESTIGATING LIQUOR LICENSE

Raid Inspired by Larson's Sudden Disappearance When Officials Enter

A POLICE "dry" raid, inspired by a suspiciously executed "duck" into the back room by Oscar Larson, 427 South Third street, when officials entered to investigate his soft drink license, resulted in a gallon of alcohol at the Union Hotel on Tuesday, police reported Wednesday.

Police headquarters reported that Larson would be arrested Wednesday on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

Entering the hotel to investigate whether he was selling soft drinks without a license, Chief Weber and Captain Duggan, became suspicious when Larson stepped hurriedly to the back room, returning in a short while. Following up the clue, the officers found that Larson had concealed a number containing alcohol.

Get Search Warrant
Later in the day a search warrant was secured and a search of the premises revealed a gallon of alcohol. The officers reported that the alcohol concealed in the tankard had been mixed with other liquids and was apparently ready to serve to customers.

RAYMOND KNEESSEL COMMITS
SUICIDE IN NORTH SIDE
PARK ON TUESDAY NIGHTJOHNSON OFFERS SUBSTITUTE FOR
BLAINE TAX BILL

New Measure is Fifth Tax Proposal to Come Before Present Session

RATES SUBSTANTIALLY SAME
AS IN FORMER BLAINE BILL

Flat Personal Property Offset Proposed in Measure

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—With the introduction of a sixth tax bill as a substitute amendment to the finance committee income tax measure, all revenue proposals pending in the senate were carried over Wednesday by the upper house and placed as a special order of business for Friday. The new substitute amendment offered by Senator A. E. Garay, is the same as that offered by Senator Johnson to the Blaine bill earlier in the day.

The conservative senators announced that they were ready to "go to bat" on the tax bills at once and asked that the measures be given immediate consideration. Administration members objected, asking for a further delay of one week. When opposition appeared to this move, agreement was reached that the bills be taken up Friday.

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—A new tax bill, the fifth of the present legislative session, was introduced into the senate this morning by Senator O. H. Johnson, as a substitute amendment to the Blaine general income tax measure. This proposal, Senator Johnson said, represents the governor's attempt to save his own bill and to keep his name on a tax measure.

Rates in the new Blaine bill, which is modeled after the governor's first tax plan, would raise approximately $14,000,000 from incomes. Of this amount cities would get 40 percent and the state 60 percent.

The new measure establishes rates from one-half of one percent on the first $500 of taxable income for individuals to ten percent on incomes over $12,000. Rates on corporations range from two to seven percent. A personal property offset of $10 is allowed for corporations and individuals. This is the only offset permitted under the new governor's measure. An exemption of $500 on home stead improvements is afforded.

After Senator Johnson offered his substitute amendment the governor's bill went over. Senator Kuckuk then moved that the finance committee bill be taken up, and the senate went into a committee of the whole to consider that. When no one appeared for or against the bill, the upper house proceeded to its consideration.

Five Amendments Killed

Consideration of the finance committee revenue bill occupied most of the morning session. Five attempts at amendment were all defeated before the measure was finally brought to an issue. At this time the administration members brought in their substitute to throw over any action.

The first amendment, offered by Senator Henry H. Pennington, would have restored the complete personal property offset to the bill. This was killed, 18 to 13.

An amendment offered by the socialist members to increase exemptions for husband and wife from $1,200 to $1,600 was killed, as were two amendments offered by Senator Czerwinski changing the time for application of the new measure, and limiting the time during which back taxes might be collected.

Then Senator Tenside offered an amendment which would have repealed the entire personal property offset to the income tax. On this question, the principal point of contention, over all tax measures, the senate voted, 18 to 13, for rejection. With all amendments killed the conservatives moved to continue consideration of the measure, but had their efforts blocked.

REVOLVER IN HAND

Mrs. Albert Nelson Alleged to Have Taken Dose of Poison —Will Recover

RAYMOND KNEESSEL, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kneessel, 809 Rose street, committed suicide by shooting himself through the right temple with a .32 caliber revolver about midnight, Tuesday, according to the police and coroner's report Wednesday morning.

No clue to the possible reason for the act had been discovered by the police up to noon Wednesday. Kneessel's body was found at the rear end of Copeland park, near the foot of St. Cloud street, by Henry Dierkopf, at 4:45 Wednesday morning.

Revolver at His Side
Coroner Raymond Dwyer who arrived on the scene within a half hour after the body was found, said that Kneessel had been dead four or five hours, which indicated that the act was committed around midnight or shortly after. The revolver was found by Kneessel's side.

Police first received notice of the suicide shortly before 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, when Henry Dierkopf hurried to No. 2 police station on the north side with the report.

Officer Schroeder, who accompanied Dierkopf back to the park, identified the body as that of Raymond Kneessel. An examination of the body by Coroner Dwyer revealed that the bullet had entered the right temple, piercing the skull.

Kneessel's father operates a barber shop at 809 Rose street.

Woman Takes Poison
Mrs. Albert Nelson, Seventh and Tyler streets, swallowed a dose of poison about 3:30 Wednesday morning, according to a physician's report to the police. Mrs. Nelson was taken to the St. Francis hospital where she was treated by Dr. Bannan. It is alleged that Mrs. Nelson took creoline poisoning. Neighbors told the police that Mrs. Nelson has been dependent since her husband left her some time ago. Dr. Bannan indicated that she would recover.

The funeral of Raymond Kneessel will be held at nine o'clock Friday morning from the Dwyer funeral parlors. Interment in the Catholic cemetery. The funeral will be private.

MR. AND MRS. Thomas Maloney, bride and bridegroom of six weeks, who are spending their summer in a cottage on French Island, had a narrow escape from drowning while bathing in French slough, just north of the Milwaukee railroad bridge.

The young couple undoubtedly would have drowned had it not been for Andrew Hayes and Bartel Weber, who happened to be going down the slough at the time, and heard their cry for help and saw them sink beneath the surface of the water.

EX-PRESIDENT OF
LANCASTER BANK
ARRESTED TUESDAY

Inquiry Into Closed Bank's Affairs Takes New Turn With Charges Against Basford

LANCASTER, Wis.—The investigation into the closing of the People's State bank here took a new angle Tuesday night when Charles H. Basford, former president, was arrested charged with taking $11,500 of the institution's funds. He was released on $5,000 bail, pending a hearing before Court Commissioner R. M. Orchard on Monday.

In the meantime the hunt for L. A. Clark, vice president, and J. Harold Pugh, cashier, continues. These men disappeared when they learned that the state banking commissioner was examining the condition of the bank. Both are now charged with violations of the state banking law.

The warrant for the arrest of former President Basford, was issued on complaint of District Attorney George B. Clementson, a director of the bank. His investigations are said to have caused the former president to resign in April, 1922. The funds were taken by Basford on March 29, 1922, according to the warrant.

The joint finance committee of the legislature is being asked to introduce a bill into the legislature providing for a fund from which the state might draw in offering rewards for the apprehension of absconding bank officials. It is learned at present the governor says that the state has no fund which it might use for this purpose.

BELGIAN PROPOSALS UNDER DISCUSSION AT BRUSSELS

Plan Fixes Indemnity to be Demanded at Forty Billion Marks

BRUSSELS.—By The Associated Press.—Premier Poincare of France is understood to have accepted in principle the new Belgian reparations plan, but asked that time be given for French experts to examine and report upon it. This accord is said to have been reached in a lengthy private conversation participated in by M. Poincare and Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister Jaspard of Belgium prior to their formal conference here Wednesday afternoon.

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—The rejection of Germany's new reparations offer was foreshadowed in official quarters here Wednesday, although the text of the note is not expected before Thursday and the unfavorable judgement is based only on unofficial advance indications that the offer from the French viewpoint does not even constitute a basis for negotiations.

Discuss Belgian Proposals
NEW YORK.—What is stated to be an official abstract of the Belgian proposals on German reparations under discussion Wednesday by the heads of the French and Belgian governments in Brussels is printed by the World-Telegram. According to this abstract the Belgian plan fixes the total indemnity to be collected from Germany at forty billion gold marks, with service on the debt computed at six percent interest, plus a one percent sinking fund, making the German payments work out at 2,800,000,000 gold marks a year.

To meet these payments, revenues from the German state railways from special monopolies and coal deliveries, are proposed—about a billion gold marks from the railways, 7,500,000,000 from the special monopolies and 3,000,000,000 from coal deliveries. The monopolies proposed, which are sale monopolies, not based on production or manufacture, would be on tobacco, sparkling wines, beer, still wines, spirits, sugar, salt, matches, and lighters, and electric apparatus, the total calculated at 1,500,000,000 gold marks annually.

The monopolies would be assigned to the reparations commission, which would farm them out to private syndicates, including German interests.

MISS GLADYS
PRINZING HIT
BY A BULLET

Strikes Rib in Back and Plows Its Course Around the Body Under the Skin, Lodging in Front

HALF INCH HIGHER OR LOWER
BULLET WOULD HAVE KILLED HER

Police Investigating to Discover Who Fired Bullet in Pettibone Park

MISS Gladys Prinzing, third grade teacher in the Washington school, was mysteriously shot in the back as she was leaving Pettibone park about 8:30 Tuesday evening, according to information given the police. Whether the shot was maliciously fired, or whether it was a stray bullet from the rifle of some careless marksman, is the problem which the police are trying to solve Wednesday.

Just as she was approaching the west end of the wagon bridge Miss Prinzing felt a stinging sensation in the back, but paid no attention to it, thinking that it was caused by a small stone or something falling from the upper structure of the bridge. When she arrived home she found her clothes soaked with blood. Dr. W. E. Bannan was called and Miss Prinzing was taken to St. Francis hospital, where it was found that she had been shot in the back, just above the waist, with a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle. The bullet struck a rib and glanced off, taking a course around the body under the skin, being extracted from just below the surface of the skin in the abdomen.

Dr. Bannan said that had the bullet gone a half inch higher or lower it would have proved fatal to Miss Prinzing.

Returns to Home

The wound is not considered serious, and Miss Prinzing was allowed to return to her rooming house, 600 King street, Tuesday night. A party of teachers had been in the park Tuesday evening for a picnic supper, and was returning when the accident occurred. With Miss Prinzing were her room-mate, Miss Anabella Trester, kindergarten teacher in the Franklin school, Thomas Brindley, manual training teacher in the Logan junior high school and H. J. Betz, manual training teacher in the Washington school.

Heard West of Lagron

The report made to the police by persons who heard the shot was that it had come from somewhere on the river, but persons canoeing in the lagoon about the same hour Tuesday evening reported Wednesday morning that they had heard a single shot, which sounded like the report of a .22 caliber rifle, but that they were certain the shot was fired from a point west of the wagon bridge.

The generally accepted theory of the shooting is that some person was careless with a rifle and that the bullet which struck Miss Prinzing was well spent. However, police are on the lookout for evidence of foul play.

GOULD WILL FILED ESTATE IS VALUED AT THIRTY MILLION

Three Children Born Out of Wedlock Publicly Recognized for First Time

TOMS RIVER, N. J.—By the Associated Press.—In the will of George J. Gould filed for probate in the circuit court on Monday, bequeathing an estate estimated at $30,000,000 to his widow and ten children, Mr. Gould made public acknowledgment for the first time that he was the father of George Sinclair Gould, June Sinclair Gould and Guinevere Gould, born out of wedlock before his marriage to his second wife, Mrs. Guinevere Sinclair Gould.

Mr. Gould married Guinevere Sinclair, an English actress, after the death of his first wife, Edith Kingston Gould, also an actress and known as one of the most beautiful women in America, by whom he had seven children. Although the three children of his second wife, whose father Mr. Gould acknowledged himself to be in his will, are excluded from inheriting their father's share in the original Jay Gould trust, they are provided for in two trusts set up for their benefit. Their exclusion from sharing in the Jay Gould trust is brought about by the legal definition of the term "lawful issue."

By the terms of the will, the late Mr. Gould's share in his father's estate is distributed among the seven children of his first marriage to Edith Kingston Gould, Kingston Gould, Marguerite Gould, George Jay Gould, Jay Gould, George Jay Gould, Jr., Edith Gould, Whitworth and Gloria Gould, a trust fund for $1,000,000 is provided for the use of Mrs. Guinevere Gould during her lifetime and to be divided among her children in the event of her death without a will.

The residuary estate estimated at $16,000,000 is left to the executors to be divided in ten equal parts, a share going to each of the children by both marriages.

"In Just a Minute"

What happens?

A woman powders her nose. A sluggard sighs. An aeroplane wings through two miles of space.

In the basic industries, minutes are precious units of time. In the portland cement industry they are jammed with action. Last year the mills in this country produced 455,480,000 sacks of portland cement—867 sacks for every minute of the year.

Replacement of worn-out cotton sacks alone created a market for 50,000,000 new ones. 93 yards of 30-inch cotton cloth had to be woven every minute to make them—76 miles of cloth every twenty-four hours.

And dynamite and other explosives—42,000 pounds of them were shot every day to supply the giant crushers with the 130,000 pounds of raw materials used each minute.

Every twenty-four hours the mills burned more than 30,000 tons of coal or equivalent fuel—enough every minute to keep 2 average homes comfortably heated throughout the winter.

This was in 1922.

It has been estimated that building activities this year will create a demand for more than 480,000,000 sacks of cement.

Government figures give the industry's capacity as 600,000,000 sacks per year if the mills are not handicapped by transportation delays, strikes and fuel shortages.

To many "in just a minute" means delay—procrastination. To this basic industry it means speed and yet more speed in the production of a commodity that goes to increase the permanent wealth of the country.

I Still Look 20

after 32 years as a star

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Some of you remember me as a famous stage beauty over 20 years ago. Perhaps in "The Girl I Left Behind Me," in "La Belle Helene," in "Wang," or "Florodora."

Many of you see me now, playing young girls' parts, still looking like a girl in her teens.

Thousands of women have asked me the secrets of this perennial youth. I have supplied them to many, and they, like I, have kept their girlish charms.

Now for all women

Now I am persuaded that I owe this information to all womanhood. I have obtained by world-wide search, the best beauty helps in existence. I knew they could bring to millions what they brought to me.

So I have arranged to supply these helps to all who want them—as a duty to my sex. I have had them prepared with the utmost skill, without regard to cost. And they are sold at modest prices, with small regard to profit.

Thus I hope to bring to girls and matrons everywhere the benefits I got. And no woman could ask for more.

My beautiful mother

My mother died a girlish beauty at the age of 57. From my earliest years she taught me her secrets. Then together we traveled the beauty-loving world in search of better methods.

We consulted able scientists, beauty specialists and famous beauties everywhere. The search cost us a fortune. But it brought to me and mine, and friends of mine, decades of added youth.

Now these helps are yours if you desire—the best that science knows. And I hope that my results will lead you to employ them.

White Youth Clay

I owe my debutante complexion largely to a superclay. Not like the crude and muddy clays so many use today, but a clean, refined clay which dries white. It is based on 26 years of scientific study by the ablest of clay experts.

One who applies it feels the impurities fairly drawn from the skin. All that clogs the skin comes out—the causes of blackheads and blemishes. The blood is brought to the surface. Large pores, lines and wrinkles yield.

Wash it off when it dries, then behold a new complexion, soft and rosy, clear and firm. The results will amaze and delight you. Many women in three 30 minutes seem to drop ten years.

Clay is a beauty essential. No woman looks her best without it. none keeps her youthful bloom. Women who use clay today stand out in any crowd.

Don't use crude and muddy clays, for they will disappoint. Try this supreme creation—the last word in facial clays. It will be a revelation,

Facial Youth

This is a liquid cleansing cream which I learned about in France. It contains no animal, no vegetable oil, so it cannot assimilate with the skin. It simply cleans to the depths, then departs. All the grime, all that clogs the skin goes with it. I use it night and morning, and whenever else my face needs cleaning.

Compare it with any cleansing cream or any cleansing method. You will be surprised at the extra dirt my Facial Youth removes. And a clean skin is essential to beauty.

The greatest beauty experts in the world now advise this formula for cleansing. But they charge a very high price. Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth sells for 75c per bottle.

Youth Cream

This is my cold cream which I apply at night. Also in daytimes as a powder base. Also after every application of my Youth Clay or Facial Youth.

Youth Cream contains both lemon and strawberry. It is the only cream, I believe, which combines these fruit effects.

It softens, whitens, feeds and firms the skin. After its use I awake in the morning, blooming like a girl in her teens.

In all my many years of searching, I have never found a cold cream to compare with this. Nor has any woman whom I know. Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream costs 60c per jar.

Hair Youth

My hair is my greatest glory. It is thick, silky, lustrous, and grows finer every year. Before I bobbed it, it fell below my knees.

I have never had falling hair or dandruff, and never a touch of gray. Nor has any friend who uses my formula. Nor had mother, who found this formula in France. She died at 57 with hair like mine today.

This is due to my hair youth. I apply it daily with an eye-dropper—just enough to dampen the scalp. This method does not muss the hair! Hair Youth daily combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair's growth. It stimulates and fertilizes the hair roots, from which come hair health and hair color.

Look at my luxuriant hair. Then see what I used to get it. Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth costs 50c and $1, with eye dropper.

Every store around you which sells toilet articles, carries my preparation. Sold by Hoescher Bros., La Crosse, Wis., and leading toilet counters everywhere.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Has the Punch

It follows through—there is no half-hearted piston stroke; neither is there a slapping piston stroke to rack your engine. Instead, Red Crown imparts a steady, steam-engine-like pressure to the piston that sustains and follows through the length of the stroke. That explains both the smooth flow of rhythmic power and the abundance of sustained pulling power. Red Crown offers to the motorist

The Utmost of Service

It has all the intrinsic merit that science has been able to put into any gasoline. It is manufactured so that it will vaporize at just the correct temperatures, to cause instant starting—a quick, snappy get-away—a smooth, gliding acceleration—tremendous power—racing speed if you want it—and most miles per gallon.

Household Suggestions

COTTON AND WOOL.

The thrifty will not buy mixtures of cotton and wool. They do not wear alike and they shrink surprisingly.

SOUR MILK USES.

Use sour milk with soda for gingerbread, biscuits and griddle cakes and for all home baked goods. When you need only a cup of milk, if you are afraid of using too much soda, use with it a little measure of cream of tartar. Sour cream is very good for salad dressing.

SUGAR ECONOMY.

In cooking chocolate or cranberry sauce, boil until nearly done, add a pinch of soda and sweeten to taste. The soda neutralizes the acid and about half as much sugar will be enough. Too much soda will make the chocolate tasteless. Combine chocolate with strawberries if you have some that seem not good enough to be served raw.

SUMMER CARE FOR BABY

Breast Feeding

Breast-fed babies are much harder, much more resistant to disease, than those that are bottle-fed. Six deaths per hundred, or 60 per thousand, at the present time, is considered an average mortality among breast-fed babies. During the first year of life, this rate among bottle-fed babies is much higher and is estimated at from 29 to 35 per cent. Of the two, the breast-fed babies are four times less liable to diseases such as summer complaint, convulsions and tuberculosis. Furthermore, a baby who is breast-fed for 10 months has a better chance than a baby who is only fed for three or four months—provided the breast milk is sufficient to make him gain properly.

Little breast milk at first does not indicate that there will not be abundance later. Nursing increases the supply, and its cessation dries up the breasts. If the milk is delayed longer than the third day the baby should be fed from the bottle, every three hours, but should first be tried each time at the breast in order to stimulate the flow. Mothers who have too much milk can preserve the supply by emptying the breasts after each feeding by a method of expression that can be easily learned from the nurse.

Get Exercise

The nursing mother needs plenty of fresh air and some daily exercise. She cannot afford to have a "spell of nerves," for this, or griefs, hunger, worry or excitement, will affect her general health and thus affect the supply and quality of the milk on which baby relies for his food. She may cut down on her sleep, if it agrees with her, if it does not, it will disagree with the baby. Milk, eggs, fresh vegetables, ripe fruit, nourishing liquid foods and water will increase her milk.

Constipation should be guarded against. Fresh fruit, bran biscuits, whole wheat bread and a glass of hot water immediately on rising, will have a beneficial effect on the bowels.

A new-born baby is put to breast five or six hours after birth and should nurse not more than four times during the first 24 hours, but at both breasts each time. He may have a teaspoon full of plain, cool fruit juice, boiled water at regular intervals between nursing, but nothing else. Beginning the second day he should nurse every two and one-half or three hours, beginning at 6 a. m.

At six months baby nurses every four hours, taking both breasts every time. Most infants are satisfied in 15 minutes or less; one who is not may be allowed not more than 5 minutes longer. If he insists on more, better consult the doctor. If he cries between feedings when fed regularly give him plain, cooled, boiled water; he is as likely to cry from over as from underfeeding.

Adding to Diet

At one month baby should have one teaspoonful of orange juice every day, preferably just before his second feeding. The amount should be gradually increased until at one year he is getting one to two teaspoonfuls. Strained tomato juice is not available. Weaning too young is dangerous; it should never be done for the convenience of the mother nor without the advice of a physician. It may usually be begun about the ninth month by substituting one part cow's milk and two parts water for one of the breast feedings. If baby digests this well the water may be reduced till in a month or two he is taking whole cow's milk. At eight months he may take cereal gruel; at the ninth month, beef juice or beef tea and a piece of dry bread or zwieback after each nursing; at the tenth month, crackers, toast, and chicken, beef, or mutton broth may be added to his menu; and a month later, strained soup from fresh vegetables.

During weaning, the number of breast feedings may be reduced and at one year should be discontinued—unless baby's birthday falls at the beginning of the summer. In that case if he is doing well do not wean till the end of hot weather.

"GO EAST" IS ADVICE FROM GIRL TOURIST

The Orient is the Place to Learn is Claim of Traveller

By MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK.—We have borrowed the kimono from the Japanese, the turban from India, and jewelry and embroideries from China but outside of these superficial acquisitions, what do most of us really know about our oriental sisters?

Mildred Taylor, writer, organizer, lecturer and feminist, is convinced that we know little—that we have never even penetrated the inner lives of these mysterious ladies on the other side of the earth.

"Most of us have only two pictures of the oriental woman," she states. "One that of a downtrodden slave of a domineering husband, the other that of a bejeweled seductress. Of the real woman we are ignorant. I believe she has much to give us."

So Miss Taylor expects to spend several years in the orient, getting first-hand information about the women and children of China, Japan and India, which she will later put in book form.

We'll Learn More

"I believe," she continued, "the present vogue for oriental costume, jewelry and home decorations is only the prelude to a much more far-reaching acquaintance with oriental art, philosophy and the science of living."

"Go East," instead of "Go West," will be the cry.

"In our complex civilization we who have never learned to relax or to reflect have much need for the calm and peace of mind which the oriental woman has attained."

"Before we can learn what she has to give us we must understand the orient, and do away with the prejudices based on ignorance and misunderstanding that are the bars to friendship."

World Auto Tour

To get close to the life of the people in the Far East, Miss Taylor is not making the trip in the conventional tourist style. She is travelling around the world by automobile in company with her brother Peter Taylor, scientist, and Blanding Sloan, New York artist.

They have started from New York to San Francisco by motor and will use that to camp with in the orient. It is equipped with miniature artist's studio, a radio outfit in a shock-proof box, a typewriter and a complete camping outfit.

They are going merely as artist, scientist and writer and are taking their chances on the hospitality of the world and their ability to convert their services into bread and butter.

Miss Taylor calls the tour a venture in international friendship.

COLLEGE CLUB HAS PICNIC AT GLENCAMERON

Club Rooms Discussed by Members at Informal Meeting Tuesday

The grassy, shaded lawn of Glen Cameron, the Ebner Coulee summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron L. Baldwin, was the scene of the annual picnic of the La Crosse College club on Tuesday afternoon, when the board of directors of the club entertained. Hospitable tables were spread in the yard, and about fifty members of the club grouped themselves about the lawn for a delightful picnic lunch.

At the informal meeting, the president of the club, Mrs. T. H. Brindley, read parts of a letter from Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry, president of the College club at Madison, announcing the purchase of an adequate club house for the Madison chapter, a house known to many La Crosse people as "the old Vilas home."

The acquisition of the homestead has been made financially possible for the Madison club by the generous offer of Mrs. Mary E. Vilas Hanks, daughter of Colonel Vilas in whose care the homestead has been left since the death of Mrs. William Vilas recently. Mrs. Hanks has been elected to honorary membership in the club because of her interest.

A membership campaign by the Madison College club last month netted it a membership of over 400 women. Three hundred and fifty of these members met at luncheon at the new home on May 26, at which the new officers were installed and plans made for a formal opening on August 15. A pretty ceremony accompanied taking possession of the house when Mrs. Hanks with a brief historical sketch of the house turned over the keys to Miss E. Louise Nordin, president for last year, who in turn presented them to Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry, the new president.

The Madison club is preparing an exhibit of pictures and writings of the Madison branch to be shown at the National Conference of the American Association of University Women to be held at Portland, Ore., this summer.

The ends are made of three inches of ribbon cut as in Fig. 2. These are placed in between the petals. Three inches of ribbon, folded as in Fig. 3 are used for the center. Five of these are arranged symmetrically and covered by a small piece of ribbon in the center. The manner in which the petals are formed is indicated by Fig. 1.

LADYSMITH BUYERS
SOUGHT WHITE MULE,
BUT NOT LIVE ONE

LADYSMITH, Wis.—William Dwyer, who lives on a farm east of Ladysmith, advertised recently that he had "white mule for sale," and as a result he had so many callers that he was aroused from his bed throughout the night to talk to them.

It all happened in this manner. Dwyer has a 2 year old mule that he has raised. He tried for a long time to sell it, but failed. One day, while whitewashing some rocks on his farm, the mule happened along. She was a dirty bay color, so Dwyer, thinking that the whitewash might clean the animal up a bit, applied a coat of it. The mule looked so fine as a result that Dwyer determined to advertise it for sale. Consequently a sign was put up on the road in front of his home: "White mule for sale."

All of Sunday people drove by and gazed at the sign. As dusk fell, customers came trooping, laden with furs and pails. Dwyer escorted them to the barn and showed them the mule, but they insisted that it was not the proper kind. The animal remains unsold.

DOLLY QUINN BEANS KATIE MEYERS WITH BOTTLE—HOSPITAL

They were having a nice little party at Wildwood the other night. Perfectly respectable and all that, because they weren't making any noise. No one passing along the broad State road that runs past the Inn would suspect any ladies were inside celebrating. Suddenly the peace and quiet of the inn and the countryside were disturbed. Dolly Quinn and Katie Meyers, two of the celebrants, got in a mix. It was short and sweet—or bittersweet. Dolly reached for the first available weapon. It was a pop bottle. Bling! Dolly clouted Katie on the head. Lights out for Katie. Bling! A quick dash to St. Francis hospital with Dolly Quinn doing a fadeaway. At the hospital they dressed Katie's head. There was a long gash on her forehead. Her glasses were broken. Her breast scratched and clawed. As she left the hospital she was heard to threaten to "have the law" on Dolly Quinn. But nothing has been done yet, legally speaking.

Before You Sleep

Go get this free tube and use it
Then watch it combat the film on teeth.

This is to people who are missing benefits which millions now enjoy.

There is a new way of teeth cleaning. It is used by expert people of some 50 nations, largely by dental advice.

It means whiter, prettier teeth, better tooth protection. It means fighting the teeth's enemies more effectively.

Your dealer will give you a ten-day test. Go ask him for it. Test this new method now.

Don't leave that film

You can feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush, used in old ways, has left much of it intact. That's why so many had dingy teeth, decay and other troubles.

Food stains, etc., discolor film. Then it forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film. That is why teeth lose luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That was almost universal.

Germes breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And that became alarmingly common.

Their greatest enemy

Film was the teeth's chief enemy. Very few escaped its harm. So dental science long sought ways to fight it. Eventually two ways were found. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was perfected to apply them twice a day. That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Now it has come into world-wide use, largely by dental advice.

New in several ways

Pepsodent brings other new effects which research proves essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Old-time tooth pastes brought just opposite effects. They reduced these natural tooth-protecting agents.

Far prettier teeth

You see them everywhere

Look about you. Note how teeth now glisten — teeth which once were dim. Mark how much those glistening teeth add to beauty and to charm.

Those whiter teeth come from fighting film. And they mean safer teeth as well. This delightful test will show you how to get them.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

One week will bring you new conceptions of what clean teeth mean. Cut out coupon now.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combastant which contains harsh grit.

10-Day Tube Free

(Only one tube to a family)

Insert your name and address, then present this coupon this week to any store named below. You will be presented with a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent.

If you live out of town, mail coupon to The Pepsodent Company, 1104 So. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, and tube will be sent by mail.

SCORES PROSTRATED BY HEAT; LITTLE RELIEF IS PROMISED

Day's Events Close With Night
Parade of Uniformed Nobles

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Conrad V. Dykeman of Brooklyn, N.
Y., was elevated to the position of imperial potentate Wednesday by the Ancient Arabic Order,
Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

WASHINGTON.—Army and navy exhibits, rowing and swimming meets and concerts by the score was the variety of events on the program for the entertainment today of the hosts of Shriners here for their forty-ninth annual convocation. A session of the imperial council came first in order of events.

The naval features included a "shuttle" stage, by the naval destroyers Ward, Reid and Roussin, docked in the Potomac river and a torpedo firing demonstration by the Wooden Other service events, were an army air meet at Bolling field, and infantry and engineers' exhibits on the Washington Monument grounds.

Several thousand of the visiting Shriners and their wives accompanied a division of the Marine corps on a trip down the Potomac to Quar-rantine, Va., returning later in the day after witnessing a spectacularly arranged war game on the maneuver grounds.

The day's events close with a parade at night of uniformed nobles over the Pennsylvania avenue route from the capitol to Washington Circle, as followed by the procession which marked the opening of the convocation yesterday. The brilliant lighting on the avenue will add to the spectacle.

The weather bureau promised only slight relief from the high temperature and humidity which caused scores of prostrations among spectators and marchers during the hours of the parade Tuesday. Of the sixty cases requiring hospital treatment, practically all had left the hospitals and were said to be serious.

President Harding, who had a prominent part in the festivities incident to the opening of the convocation
Tuesday, drove down Pennsylvania avenue at night through the swarming crowds of merry-makers. Accompanied by James S. McCall, the imperial physician, with whom he had attended the banquet to the imperial council representatives, the president, who is a noble of Aladdin Temple, of Columbus, Ohio, was frequently recognized and cheered by the crowds.

was seen by friends Tuesday night.

obscure and the suicide theory is given the most credence by officers who have inspected the body and the
